Law to Bar Doctors from Board Defeated at Hospital Meeting

DUNCAN — A bylaw which would exclude doctors from the board of directors of King's Daughters' Hospital was defeated at a stormy annual meeting of the hospital association in favor of a provision that a member of the medical staff of the hospital must be on the board.

The meeting was presided over by David R. Williams, Duncan lawyer, who had to call the meeting to order repeatedly, and after one session of catcalls which greeted a statement by G. E. Wellburn, former chairman, he urged the meeting to "remember, we are not in the legislature at Victoria."

Mr. Wellburn had suggested that doctors only turn out to meeting when they have "something to object to."

of the Victoria Ministerial Association, compared the need for national defence to Victoria's need for a police force.

"We've got to keep a police force and be prepared to beat all kinds of law breakers and criminals," he said. "The same thing is needed on an international scale, and when dealing with a possible enemy of a suspicious type we have to be prepared."

Elimination of armed forces would "be nice to see, if it is possible. But, I don't know that's a wise thing to do," he said. "We have to keep a force of some kind to be prepared for any eventuality."

Rev. G. R. Easter, pastor of the First Baptist Church, said, "I hate armament, but I don't see how it (scrapping of the armed forces) can be done. I think we have to be desperately realistic, and I don't think we can disarm in a world we have today.

"A warless world is our great, big goal," he said, "but, we have to face life as it is. I wish we didn't need policemen . . . but, you face a gangster armed with a club, and what are you going to do?" he asked.

Reaction of other local ministers to the news was more cautious.

Dr. F. E. H. James, pastor of Metropolitan United Church said, "Certainly, I'm for peace. But, this is too big a thing to pass snap judgment on."

Most Rev. Harold E. Sexton, Archbishop of B.C., said, "At the present time, I have no comment. I'll give it some thought when I see it in the paper."

mirals, generals and politicians.

3. The West should stop negotiation by insult.

4. The West should take up every offer of accommodation, no matter how phoney it may seem.

Dr. Keenleyside, however, also suggested that agnostics who don't profess to know the meaning of human life are the real leaders in efforts to arouse people to the dangers of the threat of a nuclear war.

"Leadership . . . has not come from the church or from churchmen," he said. "If war comes it may well be that humanity will perish to the sound of ecclesiastics' blessings and bombs and missiles.

Rt. Rev. G. B. Snell, suffragan bishop of the Anglican diocese of Toronto said Friday it was "very strange" Dr. Hugh Keenleyside should say Christian churches have been complacent.

"Time and again leaders o the Christian church have spoken out against causes which lead to war. Christians are continually praying for peace," he said.

Annual Affair

Martin Letter Raises Laugh

PORT ALBERNI—The "annual" letter of health minister Eric Martin was read at the annual meeting of West Coast General Hospital Society.

Some laughter was heard from delegates at the conclusion of the reading of the short epistle which stated that "information received in copies of resolutions from the society will be given due consideration."

Wording was almost exactly the same as that of letters from Mr. Martin as the result of resolutions passed at previous annual meetings.
